“ I knew Myron for several years at work. He was truly a man of God, a disciple for Christ! He had a passion to help people and spread the gospel! Sunday the 9th he came by my place a dropped of 2 wall pictures, one was a drawing of Jesus the other said "The best things in life are not things" I knew these where left by Myron from a conversation a couple weeks ago. I believe this was his last act of kindness I tried to contact him but never got a response. These pictures will hang on my wall forever in remembrance of him! Thanks Myron you are a big inspiration to me! The world needs more people like you! I will miss our conversations in the mornings but will see you again my friend, my brother in christ!

“ I worked with Myron and I've never meet a man that loved the lord more. Helping people was also at the top of his list. From money, a soda, hug, prayer. He's the only person that truly turned the other cheek. At work if someone was being hateful to him he'd go buy them a pop or candy bar and put on their work table. Myron I know your setting with the lord now but you left a memory with us that'll never die. Faye

“ I didn't work directly with Myron. But if you're worked anywhere near him, you certainly knew him! One of the kindest and faithful man I've ever met! Always came in to work early to get ready, and other people ready..... Then to pray! He was well know for sharing his faith..... In a polite way, and passing out oatmeal pies! He will be very missed by many, my heart goes out to his family and closer friends!

“ Myron and I were hired on the same day and were in assimilation class together. We also worked together on the main chassis line until he transferred to lettering. There wasn't a nicer guy in the entire plant. He always shared his testimony about Jesus and church. He gave me some dvd's of uplifting movies that he enjoyed. I usually saw him in his area already working when I entered the plant to clock in and we would share a wave and a smile or have a conversation if he wasn't busy. I will greatly miss him, but I know I will see him again. Rest in peace , Myron.
